

PRESS RELEASE: Benefit Recital August 14

PRINCETON, N.J. Caitlin McCarville, classically-trained soprano, will present a recital on Sunday, August 14, at 4:30 p.m. at the Princeton United Methodist Church. Her performance will benefit the 2012 Appalachian Service Project (ASP) at the church, located at Nassau and Vandeventer in Princeton. Accompanied by Sarah Pelletier, Ms. McCarville will perform works by Mozart, Duke, Hundley, and Debussy. No tickets are necessary, and donations will be welcome.

Ms. McCarville, a member of Princeton United Methodist Church, participated in ASP for four summers while she was in high school. "I will never forget my several summers with ASP, and their major impact on the rest of my life" says Ms. McCarville. This year the church sent 35 teens and 15 adults to build and repair homes in Lee County Virginia.

With a Bachelor of Arts degree in music from Davidson College, Ms. McCarville is pursuing a Master of Music degree in vocal performance from Longy School of Music under Carol Mastrodomenico. During her years at Princeton High School, she studied at Westminster Choir College. She has worked with such notable coaches as Martin Katz, Tom MeglIORANZA, Sondra Kelly, and in such places as Boston, Manhattan, and Arezzo, Italy. She maintains a private teaching studio in Cranbury.
